UNION WAR PRISONERS' ASSOCIATION. Those of the Union Officers captured at Bull Run, and at last brought together in Charleston Jail, to the number of thirty-three, formed a Prisoners' Association, which was afterwards added to as the original number were moved about until, at the time these prisoners were exchanged, it numbered 180. Gen. O. B. Wilcox, a Vermont by birth, was President, and Gens. Woodruff, Vodge, Corcoran and Bowman were Vice Presidents. Capt. Drew, now of the Invalid Corps, was a member of the Association. A fine engraving, now on exhibition at the FREEMAN OFFICE, exhibits, in an ingenious and beautiful design, the autographs of each one of these officers, and a correct representation of the jails in which they were at different times incarcerated. The original was done with a pen, by Lieut. Chas. Walters, afterwards killed in the battle of Chancellorsville. Each member of the Association has a copy, and the one in our Office is Capt. Drew's, who obligingly permits it to remain here that those who desire to, may enjoy an opportunity to see this interesting memorial of the hardships of our soldiers.

* FROM THE SECOND REGIMENT. "Anti Rebel," in a private letter to us, recently, says: "For news, there is not much. The Philadelphia Inquirer said yesterday that there was no sign of a retrograde movement in Meade's Army. To us there seems to be indications of a movement of some sort. We are under marching orders and receiving only marching rations, and supposed to be ready to move at any time. Whether we shall go out West with the 11th, 12th and 5th corps, or go ahead, has not yet 'transpired.' In the meantime we are drilling our conscripts, of whom we have 180, and drilling ourselves. We are living in our usual camp life style, and enjoying this fine Indian Summer under the shade of the beautiful pines, among which our camp is situated."

NOT AN EASY JOB. A letter, dated Dalton, Ga., to the Atlanta Appeal, September 26, says: The over sanguine multitude will be somewhat disappointed to know that the chances of General Bragg's taking Rosecrans and his army prisoners at Chattanooga, and sending a corporal's guard after Burnside to "gobble him up" in the mountains of East Tennessee, continue his march unimpeded to the Ohio, is not considered as easy a job in the front as it is here and below, where the people's desire for Rosecrans's destruction make them overlook the obstacles to its accomplishment.

EAST TENNESSEE.—A Knoxville letter of September 23rd, to the Cincinnati Commercial, says there were then no symptoms of a movement of troops from thence to Chattanooga. The loyal East Tennesseans, to the number of about fifteen thousand, have been organized and armed for home defense. They are also volunteering in our army very rapidly.

THE MISSISSIPPI SQUADRON. The naval squadron of the Mississippi river now comprise upwards of eighty vessels of all kinds, including the so-called marine brigade, a sort of non-descript, half naval half military organization. The river is so thoroughly guarded by this large fleet of gun-boats that it is next to impossible for guerrillas to impede navigation or perpetrate any great damage to steamboats anywhere between Cairo and New Orleans. The river, from Cairo to the Gulf, is divided into districts, each district under command of a division officer, and a complete system of river police is maintained.

Foreigners beginning to learn the strength of our Republic.

The American Republic, during the present rebellion, has proved a perpetual astonishment to foreigners, ignorant of our wonderful resources and the marvelous recuperative energies of our people. Russell, of the London Times, on his first visit to this country, in the winter and spring of 1861, found matter for continual amazement everywhere,—at first in the unaccountable indifference of the free states to the threats and unparalleled danger of secession and rebellion, and afterwards when the great North aroused itself like a giant and went forth to battle, at the wonderful displays of its strength and the magnificent outpourings of its treasure. But he and all his tribe, the London Times at home, and all the prints that with it sympathized with the slaveholder's rebellion, began at that moment, and have until recently, persisted in prophesying financial disaster, bankruptcy, collapse and ruin as the result soon to overtake this Government of the United States. We were told that we did not know how to conduct a war, and the gigantic scale upon which we were prosecuting this one was continually portrayed as prodigal and wasteful, both of men and money, to a degree which no people could long endure. No other nation could stand up under such burdens, and of course a Democracy which had no cohesive power, but was held together only by the voluntary act of its thirty millions of people, would inevitably shortly plunge into poverty, misery, and the wildest and most discordant anarchy.

But events have so falsified these ignorant views, and so given the lie to all these prophecies of disaster, that even the most reluctant witnesses against us have been, from time to time, obliged to acknowledge their mistakes and bear testimony to the astonishing resources of a free Republic. Long ago these foreign enemies were pretty effectually shamed out of their earlier position that we could not raise and keep in the field the armies necessary to put down treason, as the swelling ranks of the armed supporters of the old flag still kept their standards advancing against rebellion. But they still prophesied financial ruin, the bankruptcy of the Federal treasury, the impoverishment of the commercial classes, and the ruin and distress of the poor. But as month after month has glided by and found the Government not only not bankrupt, but with overflowing treasury, and its securities bearing a premium in the market, while the people throughout the length and breadth of the land have enjoyed almost unprecedented prosperity, the laborer commanding enhanced wages, and finding more ready employment than heretofore, and every branch of industry and business exhibiting an unwonted yet healthy activity, these same prophets of evil have found themselves again at fault in their reckoning, and are slowly coming to understand this to them new and incomprehensible phenomenon in our country. The London Times in discoursing editorially upon this phase in our affairs says:

"We shall make our meaning clearer if we explain it in connection with the problem which has more than any other in the character of the war, baffled the comprehension of the Europeans. This frightful and desolating war does not seem to have had any influence at present in destroying the prosperity of the Federal States. On the contrary, our correspondents, wherever they go, send us accounts of almost fabulous wealth and luxury. The town of Chicago, the great center of Western commerce, is being rebuilt all over. 'In the country most people have profited by the war.' A stimulus has been given to railways and every species of commercial enterprise. The great Western States have been more opened up; there commerce has increased, and, even taken into account the depreciation of greenbacks, the real solid wealth of the commercial classes has, in our correspondent's opinion, gained by the war. 'There is no doubt,' he tells us, 'that by this prodigious shower of greenbacks, the country has been enormously fertilized. The same rule applies to every other branch of commercial, agricultural or industrial enterprise. However worthless the greenbacks may be in themselves, the lands that can be bought with them, the houses that can be built with them, are solid goods.' The merchants of New York appear to be enjoying a similar run of prosperity; and there can be no doubt that the reckless way in which the war continues is due, in a great measure, to the fact that its effect up to the present time has been to enrich and not to impoverish the Federal States."

Thus one after another the forecastings of our enemies across the Atlantic and their allies South and North at home, of irretrievable ruin to the National cause, are being answered by admissions from the same pens which made them, when the unanswerable logic of events has proved their falsity. And if our people are but true to themselves, and to the principles of Republican freedom, the future of the United States shall flash still greater light upon 'the world respecting the strength of genuine Democracy, than even the past two years have done, and reveal our people as able to bear the burdens of a tremendous war without drying up the sources of a single stream of peaceful prosperity; as able to put on the sea and on the land an armament that has astonished the wealthiest and most warlike nations of Europe, and at the same time increased beyond precedent the riches of its vast fields of enterprise and industry; as able to crush the most gigantic treason that ever assailed the foundations of any Government, and yet seize upon that moment of terrific National struggle to inaugurate and push forward the greatest work of humanity, civilization, emancipation and liberty that has illustrated the annals of any people.

INSTALLATION.—Rev. Cephas H. Kent was installed over the Congregational church in Ripon, on Thursday, Sept. 24th. A sermon was preached by Rev. A. A. Baker.

TEETH EXTRACTED

Without Pain and Without Danger!

By the use of the Nitrous Oxide, or

LAUGHING GAS!

THIS method is perfectly harmless, and when the patient is under its influence, the operation can be made without the least pain. It not only destroys pain, but gives the most delightful sensations, and renders waking to consciousness a thing almost to be deplored. Unlike Ether or Chloroform, there is no reaction, no lassitude, no excitement, when in five minutes one emerges from a state of complete forgetfulness, without a headache, or any unpleasant feelings. Physicians have pronounced it beneficial to persons having weak lungs.

I have spared neither trouble or expense to make this important addition to my office, for the benefit of those afflicted with aching teeth. JOHN M. COMEGYS, D. D. Office in "Rialto" building, State Street, Montpelier.

WILLCOX & GIBB'S

Family Sewing Machine

Price with Hemmer and Feller $40.00.

$100.00

THE WILLCOX & GIBB'S Family Sewing Machine, is the best Machine, without regard to price for Family Sewing, Braiding, Hemming, Felting, Tacking, Cording.

It forms a flat, even seam, which will not rip in wear even when cut at frequent intervals, and makes the right even and most elastic seam, for Full Cloth, of any Machine.

A peculiar feature of this machine, which deserves particular attention, is a PATENTED DEVICE, which prevents the possibility of setting the needle wrong—and one which prevents the Machine being turned wrong.

The Willcox & Gibb's Hemmers and Fellers are the only really practical Hemmers in use, and are worth one-half of the price of the Machine, over all others for family use. They form a narrow, light hem or fold, far nicer than can be done by hand. The Needle is very short and perfectly straight, enabling it to sew through hard thick seams, or gathers in hard cloth, where all Machines using long or curved needles utterly fail.

The feed has no tendency to draw soft, light goods down into the machine, but will sew LINES AND BARS perfectly. It is acknowledged by all who see or use this Machine that it is the

Easiest to Learn to Use and Keep in Order of any Machine made.

After much wear, and many washings, the stitching is found to retain all the roundness, evenness and firmness which are so much admired at first. —New York Sun.

Its ingredients, which are mingled after the true principle of Chemistry, are all balsamic, and therefore it is safe and sure in effect. Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and Bronchial troubles disappear under its balsamic influence as though charmed away. Probably no medicine has ever attained so extended a sale or accomplished so much good as this renowned Balsam."
